Austria May Be Picked For Next Soviet Satellite

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA (AP) — Western officials are wondering if the Russians have picked Austria to be the next Soviet satellite.

There are increasing indications that Soviet policy toward Austria has changed since the Kremlin has lost much chance of winning all Germany.

Austria, strategically located at the historic military crossroads of the continent, is one-fourth occupied by Russian troops. The Western Powers occupy the remainder.

Russians Moving In

For seven years since the war, the Soviets have maintained the status quo, leaving an anti-Communist, pro-Western Austrian government to run Austrian affairs in all zones. Politically, the Soviets have been unable to buck the strong Catholicism of the nation's seven million people.

But a drastic cut in American dollar aid—from $190 million in 1951 to an anticipated $70 million in 1953—has begun to affect Austria's economic stability.

As the dollars decline, the Russians are moving in economically, with promises of rich rewards in the East.

Trade With East

Faced with a doubling of unemployment and a decline in exports to the West, Austria's leaders say they now must turn to the East for trade, despite the West's objections.

Western officials say they fear that stealthy, cunning economic penetration of Austria life may be the goal set by the Kremlin. An entirely new crop of Soviet Foreign Office advisers arrived recently to take over from the

Texas GOP Sets Up Solid Front For Eisenhower

By DAVE CHEAVENS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Republicans seeking to clinch Texas' vote for Eisenhower hurled ancient party lines and snuffed out the hottest internal feud in state GOP history.

Their convention here Tuesday named a full ticket of already nominated Democrats as Republican candidates for state offices, an action unprecedented in Texas politics.

Split Healed

It healed a threatened split by a series of conciliatory moves and considerable back-slapping—all in an effort to present a solid front for Eisenhower.

Nominated as Democrat-Republicans were Gov. Allan Shivers for governor; Atty. Gen. Price Daniel for U. S. senator; former Rep. Martin Dies for congressman-at-large. Along with them went the full slate named by the Democrats in July for other state offices.

Their names, under a new Texas law, will go on the November election ballot both as Republicans and

Republicans Trying To Turn Tables On Secretary Brannan

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are trying to turn the tables on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan this presidential campaign year.

Four years ago the Democratic farm chief made the Republican-controlled 80th Congress a target in the important Midwestern farm belt on the basis of its farm legislation. Brannan's campaign was credited by the Democrats with playing a major role in President Truman's upset victory over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Off To Early Start

The 1948 farm issue centered largely on action of the GOP Congress in restricting the government's power to store farm products.

This year, the Republicans have got off to an early start in attacking Brannan. Their guns are being pointed at a controversial farm plan advanced in 1949 and on a contention that his successful 1948 campaign was based upon misrepresentation.

The GOP claims that the Brannan farm plan—which would expand the government's power to control farm production and make broad use of subsidies to keep farmers prosperous—would regiment agriculture. But Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, has sought to toss the Brannan plan aside with the statement that it is not recommended by him.

Issues Trumped Up

More attention is being paid to charges made by several Republican leaders that the 1948 Democratic victory in the farm belt was gained by a trumped-up issue. These claims have been made by Gov. Dewey, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont and Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware.

By mid-summer of 1948, it was quite apparent that bumper crops were being produced. Secretary Brannan came out with statements that there was a shortage of storage space for wheat, corn and other grains. He said the government's price support programs for the grains would not be effective because of a storage shortage.

Under the support program,

Rankin Beaten In Mississippi

By KEITH FULLER

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Rep. John Rankin, the last of Mississippi's old-school white supremacists and denouncer of Yankees, has lost his seat to his former colleague Rep. Thomas Abernethy.

Rankin and Abernethy were opponents because the State Legislature combined their districts last April to eliminate a congressional seat lost in the 1950 census.

Rankin conceded defeat early today after unofficial returns from 341 of the district's 358 precincts in yesterday's state Democratic primary showed.

Abernethy, 26, 903. Rankin, 20, 568. The 49-year-old Abernethy was reserved about dethroning the 70-year-old dean of the Mississippi congressional delegation, who was seeking his 17th term in the House of Representatives.

America Must Crack Soviet Empire From Within, Says Dulles

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—John Foster Dulles rapped American foreign policy today as "suicidal" and proposed a plan to disintegrate "the empire of Soviet communism" from within.

The Republican foreign policy adviser delivered his sharp attack in an address prepared for delivery before the American Political Science Association.

Present System Flops

He called upon the United States to pay more attention to the peoples and problems of Asia, Africa and South America and to abandon as a failure its program of "containing" communism.

"The empire of Soviet communism can be disintegrated from within," Dulles said, adding:

"Already it is over-extended, covering 800 million people of what were recently 19 different independent nations. The structure could be cracked by passive resistance, slow-downs and non-cooperation."

"That would happen if our nation would today exert the same type of influence in the world that we exerted during the first century of the republic. At that time we symbolized freedom, and we gave moral and sometimes material support to those elsewhere who sought liberty."

Victory Through Asia

The only alternative way to stop Soviet communism, he said, was by a "frightful head-on collision."

Curb On Copper Use Is Lifted

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government took copper and aluminum off its critical list today and indicated an improving metal supply situation may permit a big boost in military and civilian production next year.

The Defense Production Administration forecast a better supply of steel, copper and aluminum in early 1953.

Copper particularly has become more plentiful, partly because not so much of it was used by manufacturers during the steel strike.

DPA Administrator Henry M. Fowler reportedly has advised the Defense Department that more materials can be expected by next April, or earlier. While not suggesting increased military production, he has told the military men they can schedule greater arms production if they wish to do so.

Yesterday, the National Production Authority told the construction industry it can expect considerably greater quantities of materials by next April, or perhaps as early as next Jan. 1 for private building.

Air France Steward Arrested For Hiding Platinum In His Vest

NEW YORK (AP)—Customs officials say an Air France steward arrested yesterday on a charge of failing to declare seven platinum bars, had no reason to try to hide the metal.

There is no duty on platinum brought into this country, the customs spokesman said, and the only requirement is that it be declared.

But customs officials said the steward, Andre Foligny, 30, of Paris, apparently did not know this and hid the seven bars in a vest under his shirt. The platinum was valued at $7,000.

Girl Plays With Rope, Killed Behind Auto

DANESE, W. Va. (AP)—Seven-year-old Hattie Lou Bragg was happily playing in front of her home yesterday, a 10-foot length of rope tied to her wrist.

She was tossing the free end into the air when it suddenly caught on the front of a neighbor's passing automobile.

The little girl was dragged 150 yards before the driver could be stopped. Hattie died on the way to a doctor's office.

He said the Soviets traditionally believed the "road to victory in the West" lay through Asia, particularly China, and that non-Western and non-white peoples could not be treated as "second-class expendables" if the West wanted to survive in a free world.

The chief architect of the Japanese Peace Treaty said present foreign policy involved "race discrimination on a global scale" by concentrating on the defense of predominantly white Western Europe.

"That is a wrong policy and, in the face of the Soviet program of encirclement, it is a suicidal policy," he said, "It must be changed."

Stevenson Jabs At McCarthy In Legion Address

By DON WHITEHEAD

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson coldly accused the attackers of Gen. George C. Marshall today of hiding under a cloak of patriotism which he called "the last refuge of scoundrels."

The Democratic presidential nominee did not use any names but he left no doubt that one of the main targets of his bitter blast was Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin—one time recipient of an American Legion award for Americanism.

Nominee Wags Finger

McCarthy has accused Marshall, former secretary of state and former secretary of defense, of being party to a plot against the security of his own country.

Stevenson launched his surprise statement in a speech written for the American Legion convention meeting in Madison Square Garden, where GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower spoke only two days ago.

Also, Stevenson figuratively wagged a finger under the Legion's nose and told them he would not submit to any pressures from the Legion if he thought

Carferry Strike Deal Proposed

LUDINGTON (AP)—A Mason County citizen's committee proposed arbitration today to end the 54 day old strike of Great Lakes and Detroit River carferry officers.

The committee, appointed last month to seek a speedy settlement of the strike, made its suggestion in a letter to Herman M. Booth Jr., international marinedirector of the union, the Great Lakes Licensed Officers Organization.

The prolonged work stoppage, over a wage increase demand, has tied up carferry service of four lines operating on Lake Michigan and the Detroit River.

Long Overdue 10 Million To Be Paid Cities

LANSING (AP)—As the state treasury continues to fall behind in meeting obligations, school districts are beginning to feel the pinch severely.

The treasury has, however, finally accumulated enough money to pay a long overdue $10,000,000 to municipalities.

Districts Borrow

Three school districts got approval yesterday from the Municipal Finance Commission to borrow money to meet operating expenses.

The failure of the state to pay school aid as usual before school opens was listed by the districts as the reason for their difficulties.

An Oakland County district, reporting its salary checks were coming back marked "no funds" was permitted to borrow $10,000 to tide it over.

Traverse City school district was permitted to borrow $100,000 and the Mesick consolidated schools $7,500.

Tax Revenue Coming

Clair L. Taylor, deputy superintendent of public instruction, said many other districts were in financial trouble, but had not yet applied for permission to borrow.

The state may be able to meet its school obligations in the first half of September, Auditor General John B. Martin Jr. reported.

He said the treasury today contains $12,000,000. First to be paid out of this is $10,000,000 which has been due municipalities as their one-sixth of the sales tax for nearly a month.

Other obligations coming due shortly are a $2,000,000 payroll.

The treasury will get a big enough lift to pay off all these obligations by collections of the corporation franchise tax, Martin said.

Three Million Watch Legionnaires Parade

NEW YORK (AP)—It was back to convention business today for American Legionnaires after a day of parading up Fifth Avenue to the cheers of three million spectators.

They returned to Madison Square Garden to vote on committee resolutions and to hear a number of speeches, topped by an address by Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson.

Resolutions Ready

Other speakers on the agenda were the American Medical Association president, Dr. L. H. Bauer; Deputy Secretary of Defense William C. Foster, and the U. S. Marine Corps commandant, Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr.

Riverside, Calif., Man Faces Murder Charge In Slaying Of Niece

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Acting Dist. Atty. Elwood Rich says he will file first degree murder charges today against John Chauncey Lawrence 37, held in the slaying of Kathryn Knodel, 16, Lawrence's niece.

Rich said yesterday he will seek a grand jury indictment against Lawrence in about two weeks.

Funeral services for the battered and ravished girl were held yesterday at Redlands, but burial was delayed to make sure officials have all the medical information they need.

The girl's body was found near Palm Springs early last Wednesday. Lawrence has admitted hitting Kathryn on the head with a rock but insists she was already dead and he was trying to make it look as if she had been run over by a car. She was killed accidentally, Lawrence says, when struck by a jack handle as she helped him fix a tire.

Sly Red Propaganda Put On Air In U. S., Senate Quiz Reveals

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) A Senate subcommittee report said today that pro-Communist script writers are spreading "subtle" propaganda over the nation's radio and television airwaves.

"The thing is subtle," the report of the Senate internal security subcommittee quoted script writer Ruth Adams Knight as testifying at closed door hearings.

Miss Knight, denouncing Communists and communism, said pro-Communist script writers stop short of "laying down the party line" in their program scripts, but skillfully weave into them "a constant derision of the capitalistic system."

Writer Denounced

They aim, she said, at "the simple people who listen to the radio, who would turn off outright Communist propaganda."

In question-and-answer testimony quoted by the subcommittee Miss Knight and Welbourn E. Kelley denounced Ira Marion, a one-time script writer for Voice of America anti-Communist propaganda broadcasts beamed to Israel. Both swore in private life, Marion is an identifiable pro-Communist.

The subcommittee in its own findings, however, treated the Voice broadcasts cautiously. It said simply that members of the Radio Writers Guild, of which Marion is a former president, "write for the Voice of America and the United Nations radio section," and that the guild "is controlled by the pro-Communist faction."

New Angles Appear

The report came on the heels of one the subcommittee released recently alleging Communist infiltration of youth work in this country—including the Boy Scouts—and dropped a hint that the subcommittee also is studying "use of sex" in the Communist underground movement.

It quoted a statement by Richard Arens, the subcommittee's staff director, that the group planned "interrogation of the question of patronage (job dispensing), use of the blacklist against anti-Communists, use of sex."

This was the only reference to sex in the condensed transcript of testimony taken at closed hearings between April 7, 1951, and last April 1. Staff members said other portions will be released later, dealing with a variety of phases of Communist activity.

British Invent Seeing Phones

LONDON (AP)—The "Sorry, dear, but I'm working late at the office" dodge may be on the way out—TV-telephone has arrived.

The "I can see you" phone—latest invention of British radio engineers—is a surprise exhibit at London's annual radio show, which opened today.

The caller's image is shown on a television screen at the other end of the circuit, and the caller similarly can see the party on the other end on a television screen in front of him.

A spokesman for the phone makers said it was hoped that TV-telephone would be installed on the New York-London transatlantic line before long.

"It would be invaluable for high-level inter-governmental talks when people speaking must be certain of each other's identity," he suggested.

But the TV-phone won't be invading the privacy of the home for a while yet — the present model stands as high as a kitchen cabinet and costs around $2,800.

Miss Wall Leading In Portland, Ore., Women's Tournament

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Defending champion Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, playing erratically, was two down at the end of nine holes today to Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., in second round match play in the Women's National Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Wall moved into the lead on the second hole and Dorothy was never able to pull abreast of her.

House Group Checks On California Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Communism in Southern California's defense and radio industries will be investigated by the House Un-American Activities Committee, says Rep. Donald L. Jackson.

Jackson said yesterday that 115 witnesses will be called for a 10-day hearing here beginning Sept. 29.

Soil Saving Is Field Day Topic Here Thursday

Soil conservation practices to increase fertility and yield will be demonstrated at a field day program Thursday to which Delta county farmers are invited. District Soil Conservation Chairman Ed Bergman announced today.

The demonstration, with dealers in farm machinery cooperating, will be held tomorrow starting at 10:30 a. m. at the Leo Lancour farm, Flat Rock.

The speakers will be heard at noon. They are Russell E. Horwood, Chatham, U. P. superintendent of Extension Service, Michigan State College; and R. G. Hill of East Lansing, secretary to the State Soil Conservation Committee, who is expected here for the event.

Demonstrate Practices

The program is scheduled to continue to 3 p. m. with lunch served on the grounds by the Altar Society of Holy Family Church.

Actual demonstrations in terracing, grass waterway construction, and contour strip plowing is scheduled for the morning hours.

In the afternoon there will be continued demonstrations in terracing, grass waterways, surface drainage, and diversion construction.

Ditch construction will proceed throughout the day.

Long Range Program

J. L. Heirman, Delta agricultural agent, will be master of ceremonies, and Chairman Bergman will introduce the speakers.

Purpose of soil conservation and the organization of the Delta Soil Conservation District about two years ago by land owners of the county is the preservation of valuable farm soils. Better drainage for low areas, and control of erosion on slopes and hillsides is being encouraged to protect the soil and assure the productive future of Delta county farms.

Technical assistance is given by Thomas J. Hughes, assigned to the local Soil Conservation district.

The local Soil Conservation Committee includes Chairman Bergman, Clayton Ford of Cornell, Onni Simoes of Rock, Robert Watchorn of Fayette and Anthony Purzol of Stonington.

The theatre, which is to be known as the Hilltop Drive-In will be situated on the Danforth Hill on County Road 412 a short distance outside the city limits.

Eighteen acres of property has been acquired atop the hill on the southwest side of the highway for the new theatre.

Coulter said that the necessary approvals have been received from township and highway officials and work on the project would be rushed so as to assure opening of the theatre as soon as weather conditions warrant in 1953.

The screen to be constructed will have a height of 58 feet and a width of 54 feet.

A combination confection booth and projection booth is planned. It will be a self-service confection booth which is in accordance with modern trends.

The theatre is to be equipped with the latest model Simplex projection equipment, Coulter states. Coulter has been affiliated with the Rialto theatre of Gladstone for the past 18 years, first as projectionist and later as assistant manager.

Follo Presents Delta Story At Teachers' Meet

Charles Follo, president of the Escanaba Board of Education and trustee of the Michigan Historical Society outlined the history of Delta county in a talk at the pre-school teacher's conference yesterday at Junior High School.

In the afternoon session today, Harvey Hanlon of Row, Peterson and Company discussed arithmetic with the elementary teachers and the Junior High School and Senior High School teachers discussed report cards.

Robert Leestma, assistant director of audio-visual education of the University of Michigan, will talk at the nine o'clock session Thursday morning. Donald Ickes, coordinator of the audio visual education program in Escanaba, also will be on the program and Clarence Zerbel, principal of the Junior High School, will be chairman.

School Opens Tuesday
At 11 a. m. Dr. Guy Hill of Michigan State College, will talk on the subject, "Beyond the Three R's. What?"

Meetings in the schools buildings are scheduled in the afternoon. In the evening the Chamber of Commerce will be hosts to the teachers at a dinner at the Escanaba Golf Club. Dr. Guy Hill will be the guest speaker, "Keeping Alive as Long As You Live".

The teachers will work in the buildings Friday and school will open Tuesday, Sept. 2.

To familiarize the new teachers and refresh the memories of the older ones on the history of Delta county in which they are living and working was Follo's objective.

The First Settlement

There were Indian inhabitants in Delta county well before 1800, Follo pointed out. He assured the group that this part of the country has been inhabited long before the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock.

A well defined Indian trail ran from Garth to Indian Lake and from the Whitefish river valley to Munising Bay.

The first white settlement in Delta county came in 1830 when Louis A. Roberts and his Indian wife came from Green Bay to settle on the Escanaba River, five miles from its mouth. The Roberts were very friendly with Chief Chipany and he persuaded them to move up on the Whitefish river.

In the middle of the 1800's, the boom in building lumber mills began. The Roberts had built the first and soon after that came the development at Ford River and on the Sturgeon River.

Became County Seat

The first place that looked like a town in Delta was Masonville. Richard Mason of Chicago and his family came in 1830 to begin what was to be the county seat. The Chicago North Western Railway had intended to have their run from Negaunee to Masonville but Escanaba changed all that.

Before 1863, there was nothing more in Escanaba than a log building across from what is now the House of Ludington. Elijah P. Royce did the first survey for the city. He plotted the ground from the bay to 12th St. and from 5th Ave. S. to 5th Ave. N. Royce park now bears his name.

When the Chicago North Western saw that Escanaba was growing so rapidly, they quickly changed their plans and made their base of operation here. Also Escanaba was made the county seat.

Boats, then as now, were the most important means of trade, communication and commerce. There soon came into being daily runs between Escanaba and Green Bay.

From 1868 to 1892 there were many newspapers flourishing from the Escanaba Tribune down to the German paper called the "Posten." The Mirror was absorbed by what is now the Daily Press.

Gladstone came into being when the Soo Line Railroad decided to put its depot there. In 1887 the first "city" meeting of the Gladstone townspeople was held in Aaron Miller's store.

People then spoke of trips to Milwaukee and Chicago as "going outside". When cars first became the rage, a trip to Fayette was an all day affair . . . one day to get there and another to return.

Today, U. P. residents may be in the north country, but they are also very much in the whirl of modern day life, Follo concluded.

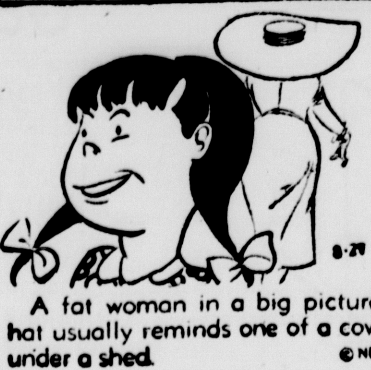

Former Rock Woman Dies in Detroit

Mrs. Emma Sophia Peltola, 69, a former Rock resident, died yesterday in Detroit where she had been making her home with her son, Gene.

Her husband, Henry, preceded her in death on Jan. 20, 1937. She was a member of the Finnish Lutheran Church of Rock.

The body is being shipped to Escanaba to lie in state at the Anderson funeral home beginning Friday. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Finnish Lutheran Church in Rock with the Rev. Amos Marin of Gwinn officiating. Burial will be made in the family lot in the Rock cemetery.

LITTLE LIZ

4-H Students At E. Lansing

Six Delta county 4-H boys and girls are attending the State 4-H Show in East Lansing this week where top-notch club members exhibit the best examples of their craftsmanship and talent.

All of the teen-agers won the trip as awards for placing first in club work competition during Camp Week last month at Michigan State College's experiment station at Chatham.

The delegates are:
Joyce Winling of Pine Ridge, winner of the vocalist contest;
Everell Miron of Cornell, girls' achievement booth winner;
Carol Jean LaMarche of Danforth;

Janice McFadden of Cornell;
Juanita Carlson of Cornell, all winners of the clothing judging contest, and John Whybrew of North Delta, winner of the boys' achievement booth competition.

37th Anniversary
All of them, except Whybrew, will compete in events in which winners will receive trips to Washington, D. C.; to Toronto, Canada; or to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, or war bond awards.

The State 4-H Show is unique in that it is the only state-wide 4-H competitive event held on a college campus apart from any state or regional fair.

This year's show, from Aug. 26 to 29, will mark the 37th anniversary of the activity. It is expected to bring about 2,000 boys and girls to East Lansing for the week.

Prizes Total $28,000
These youthful farm and home workers will demonstrate or judge in more than 500 classes and divisions of 4-H club work. Premium money for their prizes is at an all-time high—$28,000.

Judging got under way Tuesday, Aug. 26, and will continue until Friday, closing day. Evening entertainment will feature the general assembly, a dress revue and a talent program in the college auditorium.

The 2,000 boys and girls attending the State Show will be housed in Shaw Hall dormitory during the four-day event. An equal number living in nearby counties is expected to drive to East Lansing for the events in which they participate.

'Big Consumer' Government Now Squeezed In Own Inflation Trap

THE government, through its Office of Price Stabilization, is urging the "consumer" to resist higher prices.

Presumably the OPS bosses would have the housewife argue with the butcher, wrangle with the baker, and refuse to buy unless she considered the price low enough. The same might be said of her husband, who would "resist" the higher prices on cars and homes and shoes.

Such inflation-fighting advice is more than useless in view of the administration's own encouragement of, rather than resistance to, the rising price levels in this country.

Certainly the government is one of the nation's largest consumers, yet it has in no recorded instance attempted to beat down the high price of anything—whether it be salaries to political cronies or air bases in North Africa.

The action of the government in recommending higher salaries for union members in key defense industries was an invitation to higher prices. When the steel industry forced the White House into granting a compensating price rise per ton in steel the President must have been fully aware of the cost the country must pay in settling the steel strike.

The buying power of the dollar is reduced in ratio to advancing prices—yet the administration has shown itself willing to deal in the stuff of which inflation is made without consideration for the consumer or national security.

Passing along government approved price increases to the consumer means that government must pay higher prices for what it buys—for government is the biggest consumer of all. This means that the national defense bill will be jumped by billions of dollars in the program of making the consumer foot the bill.

Administration officials no doubt feel that the American housewife represents the nation's consumers. And no doubt it was felt that if the housewife "resists" price increases inflation will be halted.

Today the government, because it ignored factors which make for inflation and prevent stabilization, is caught in the trap to a greater extent than the average citizen consumer.

The government-approved wage increase, coupled with escalator clauses that tie wages to the cost of living, plus the administration's wooing of the labor vote leads inevitably to higher costs and higher prices. The administration's record on "resistance" to cost-creating wage demands is remarkably poor.

The effect of wage stabilization on price control has been consistently ignored, with the government quick, however, to report that consumers must "resist" high prices it blames to the cost boost granted the steel industry.

Certainly every consumer—including labor and industry and government as well as the housewife—would welcome a fair and equitable program of stabilization. That it cannot be accomplished by the present fumbling administration is obvious.

State Laws Should Not Deny Soldier a Ballot

THE first presidential election since the outbreak of the Korean war comes up this fall. And with it comes up the old problem of letting soldiers who are out of the country help choose their next commander-in-chief.

It's a pretty sorry state of affairs when men most entitled to vote—soldiers fighting their country's hot and cold wars—are not allowed to do so. But that's the way it is for possibly as many as a million of them.

The Armed Forces Information and Education Office has set up certain standards states must meet to insure that their soldiers get a proper chance to cast their ballots. Among these requirements are that the state permit absentee voting. Several do not.

The I. and E. office also specifies that a federal post card be acceptable in lieu of the soldier's ballot. And ballots should be sent out by states to absentee voters in time for them to be in the voters' hands at least 45 days before election day.

However, despite the recent World War II experience, which should have taught us something along these lines, only 18 states meet all the I. and E. requirements for absentee voting.

In the remaining 30 states some soldiers will be allowed to vote in November, but many will be the victims of failure by their states to take the necessary legislative steps.

If soldiers were the only ones disfranchised it would be bad enough. But the trap that catches the soldiers also catches thousands of civilians who on Nov. 4 will be carrying on the nation's business in various parts of the world.

It's just about too late to do anything about the situation in time for the coming election. But Congress and the state legislatures certainly should not let another voting time pass without having acted to give the vote to those away from home.

Merry-Go-Round

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Charles F. Horne, Civil Aeronautics Administrator, U. S. Department of Commerce.)

CHARLES F. HORNE

WASHINGTON—It's late on a dark and stormy night. The place, an airport at Paris, Rome, Cairo, or in the Far East. Passengers are watching the wind and rain beat against the windows of the airplane when they notice the stewardess unlock the door to the pilot's compartment and a man in a business suit enter. He sits on the "jump seat," and as the plane takes off, checks all phases of the flight to determine whether safety standards for operation and maintenance of U. S. flag carriers are being observed.

In aircraft plants throughout the United States, other CAA safety agents constantly inspect pieces of fabricated equipment to determine whether they meet the safety specifications set by the CAA.

A year ago artillery-shell fire struck the U. S. embassy in Bangkok, Thailand, as insurgent naval officers revolted and attempted to establish a new government. In the hostilities which followed there were approximately 3,000 casualties and the U. S. embassy was struck four times by artillery-shell fire and about 100 times by small-arms fire. All normal communications were cut off and the stand-by generator to Thailand, and there was no way either to warn them off or to notify the Department of State and military authorities in Washington.

The head of the CAA international region office in Bangkok made a dramatic night dash under fire through the front lines of the opposing forces to an aeronautical radio station which was situated within the Thai naval compound. Although stopped and forced to leave his vehicle, the CAA representative managed to talk his way into the radio station. There he warned off and diverted all U. S. commercial aircraft, and transmitted the first word of the uprising to reach the outside world.

SAVING LIVES

It is rarely, of course, that CAA personnel have to operate under gunfire, but they do cope with an amazing variety of emergencies in order to make flying the routinely safe experience it is for the average American. In flight-testing the competency of applicants for airman certificates, CAA safety agents frequently must cut one of an airplane's two engines, to see whether the pilot reacts promptly and correctly. If he does, he gets the CAA certificate which is an assurance of safety to the public. If he doesn't the CAA agent has to move fast to save his neck.

Reports in our files show that in 23 test incidents, quick thinking by CAA safety agents saved almost half a million dollars worth of airplanes and the lives of 60 persons. A typical, terse report is that on Case 8-120-0:

"Air transport rating applicant in DC-3. Making low approach with left engine out. Over airport at 900 feet, hood was removed and applicant started turn to left. Suddenly changed mind and rolled aircraft rapidly into an R turn. Airplane spun to right. Coordinated efforts of company check pilot and agent stopped spin and recovered. Barograph in airplane showed recovery was 50 feet above level of airport."

A majority of the CAA "saves," however, are achieved by CAA ground personnel, who man the more than 70,000 mile network of federal airways. From their posts in communications stations, control towers and control centers, they have "talked down" hundreds of lost pilots. Although the highways of the sky are clearly marked by CAA radio beams, every now and then some pilot will become confused.

Then CAA communicators or controllers go to work as they did when a night-flying National Guard pilot contacted our Macon, Ga., radio during a thunderstorm and reported his position unknown. The communicator thought of the searchlight used to advertise a drive-in theatre. He asked the operator to leave the searchlight on. The pilot finally saw the beam, determined his position, and proceeded to a safe landing.

All branches of the military depend heavily on CAA services, particularly on its air navigation and traffic control facilities which, for the last four years, have been improved and operated under a "common system" concept. Thus, the air defense command uses information obtained and correlated by CAA to identify friendly aircraft flying in our coastal and border defense zones, so that it can "scramble" interceptors against unidentified targets appearing on radar or reported by ground observers.

Familiarize Child With School Before It Starts, Parents Told

NEW YORK—Children should be told about school before they are taken to an unfamiliar setting and left among strangers. That is the advice of New York school officials who have half a million children in the elementary grades.

Here are some things they suggest in a booklet for parents that the child be told:

"School will be an exciting and exciting experience for him. He will draw, sing, play games and engage in other forms of indoor and outdoor activity. Later, he will learn to read and to use numbers in interesting, practical situations.

"He will make new friends. He will play, work, share ideas and experiences with other children his own age.

"His teachers will be interested, friendly, and sympathetic guides and counselors."

Parents' Role Stressed
The advice, which applies to all schools, also suggests that the parent has an important part.

"Visit your school and get to know your child's teacher. She is interested in your child and will be very happy to talk with you. Tell her about your child, his desires, his strengths, his weaknesses, his problems, his special interests and talents. Grow along with your child. Show an interest in his work. If he seems to be having difficulties, ask his teacher what you can do to help him.

"Remember that children are not alike. Some are taller, some are stronger than others. Each child develops best at his own pace. So don't compare your child unfavorably with his brothers, sisters, or friends. Don't push him beyond his capacities but expect him to try to do his best."

Physical Checkup Is Vital
Other advice is to check with your doctor. Some immunizations against disease are required in most schools. Have a physical checkup before school.

See that the child has plenty of rest.

MAKING NEW FRIENDS is one of the nice things about school, these youngsters find out in a spelling class.

"Young children seem to be tireless. Actually, they use up an enormous amount of energy in the course of a day. They need ample sleep and rest to restore their energies. Without proper and adequate rest your child's school work and play activities will suffer."

First graders should have 10 or 11 hours of sleep every day. And if the child shows signs of being ill, keep him home and take care of him.

It is also well to plan his clothes so that he can get in and out of them by himself and to mark hat coat and rubbers so that they can be easily identified.

The child should be accustomed to getting up early so he has plenty of time to get ready and eat a good breakfast without rushing.

You need not teach your child to read before he goes to school. But it will help if you speak clearly to him, explain word meanings, encourage him to talk about his experiences. Picture books will help if you "tell him about the pictures" — or, better, let him tell you. Teach him songs. Read stories to him—as many as he can understand and enjoy. If you do these things you will make reading interesting and pleasant for him."

Century's 10 Best Films Give Russians Top Place

AP Newsteatures

BRUSSELS — A Russian film, "Battleship Potemkin," made by Sergei Eisenstein in 1925, has been voted the best motion picture of the century in an international poll.

The Belgian Film and Fine Arts World Festival Organization said that, in its poll of 55 film men on the 10 best pictures since 1900, Eisenstein's work received 32 votes. Second, with 25 votes, was Charlie Chaplin's "The Gold Rush."

The other ranking eight in order of voting preference were Vittorio De Sica's "Bicycle Thief" (Italian), Chaplin's "City Lights," Jean Renoir's "La Grande Illusion" (French), Rene Clair's "Le Million" (French), Eric von Stroheim's "Greed," King Vidor's "Hallelujah," David Lean's "Brief Encounter" (English), Georg-Wilhelm Pabst's "Dreiroschenoper" (German).

Only two of the top—"Bicycle Thief" and "Brief Encounter" have been made within the past 15 years. The top two were released in 1925-27 years ago. Von Stroheim's picture was made in 1923, and D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance," which won 11th place, was made in 1916.

Among those polled were Hollywood's William Dieterle, Henry Hathaway, Elia Zazan, Orson Wells and Cecil B. de Mille and England's Noel Coward, Sir Alexander Korda, Carol Reed and Sir Lawrence Olivier.

De Mille, who picked "Cabiria" by Giovanni Pastrone for first place, listed his own "Ten Commandments," "King of Kings," "Sign of the Cross," and "Samson and Delilah," for fourth, fifth, seventh and 10th places.

Good Evening...

BY CLINT DUNATHAN

SMELL REMOVER—One of the most amazing products to find a quantity sale in the U. S. since Hadaool hit the skids is some green coloring material called chlorophyll.

Unlike Hadaool, chlorophyll makes no claim to bringing you health—but its manufacturers do say that it will assure you a large measure of happiness.

Now happiness is a condition variously analyzed by the philosophers. Some say that happiness is an absence of pain, and others that it is a healthy condition of the liver.

Never once, however, has anyone except the producers of smell removers promised so much for so little.

Marriage, money, wealth, beauty—all these are indicated as rewards for those who smell good (as with perfume) or not at all—as with chlorophyll.

VERY MYSTERIOUS—Today the market is flooded with chlorophyll products designed to make the average man and woman smell like nothing.

There are green chlorophyll tablets, toothpaste, chewing gum, soap, salve and, so forth. Science is still dabbling around with the stuff but assures us that it is harmless.

Noah Webster, dead these many years, never saw a stick of chlorophyll chewing gum, but his dictionary describes chlorophyll as follows:

"The green coloring matter of plants, extracted from their green parts as a mixture of two pigments specifically called chlorophyll a and chlorophyll b.

"The two are esters and are structurally related to hemin. They are accompanied by other pigments (carotene, xanthophyll, xanthophyll esters). Chlorophyll is always present during photosynthesis by higher plants."

AND PRACTICAL—Now that you know all about chlorophyll after reading the above, we will go on to the more practical aspect of the subject—its effect in quieting those onion and garlic shouts.

Uses of chlorophyll tablets, after exhaustive sniff tests, confirm the remarkable effect. They have no odor—not even an odor of chlorophyll.

Under the circumstances, it appears somewhat astounding that science has failed to apply the chlorophyll where it will do the most good—to the onion and garlic itself. Cabbage and brussels sprouts, limburger cheese and skunks, could have their disagreeable odors eliminated at the source.

Practical use also would be to add a little chlorophyll to gasoline, thus sweetening auto exhaust; and a little of it injected into the city dumping ground would freshen the air at the far end of Old State Road.

ON WITH THE DANCE—Up to this point, however, chlorophyll is strictly for use at the human level, although it is also advertised as a sure cure for what makes other dogs sniff at Fido.

While an odorous dog might be an unhappy one, a scentless person is recognized as a social asset.

The ads always picture the young lady and gentlemen preparing to gulp chlorophyll tablets before they leave for the dance, or smiling odorlessly at each other with their noses in position for an Eskimo osculation.

Next to chlorophyll, the ad writers will have you know, there is only the second best alternative of a hot bath and change of linen.

OUT OF THE PAST—Chlorophyll has been around in its natural state for millions of years, apparently without changing the course of social events up to recent history.

Large doses of chlorophyll would have been welcome back 50 to 100 years ago when bathrooms were scarce and folks were sewed into their underwear for the winter. And when knighthood was in flower, chlorophyll might have made it more flowerlike.

The only conclusion to be arrived at is that chlorophyll is several centuries behind the times.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

1.—One who keeps bees is an: (a) apiarist, (b) aorist, (c) aviarist, (d) aporist.

2.—We call a plane figure of six sides: (a) octagon, (b) heptagon, (c) tetragon, (d) hexagon.

3.—The opposite of pessimism is: (a) despair, (b) dejection, (c) hope, (d) modesty.

4.—Water that is not clear is: (a) turbid, (b) morbid, (c) turbid, (d) sordid.

5.—A synonym for blame is: (a) endorse, (b) impugn, (c) cajole, (d) exculpate.

6.—A man of his word is: (a) perfidious, (b) punctilious, (c) insidious, (d) sagacious.

7.—Corsuscate means: (a) wrinkle, (b) glitter, (c) connect, (d) confirm.

8.—The opposite of devious is: (a) crooked, (b) doubtful, (c) straight, (d) later.

ANSWERS

1.—Latin for "bee" is apis; hence a bee-keeper is an (a) apiarist (AY-pi-AR-ist).

2.—Greek okto means eight; hepta, seven; tetra, four; hex, six, so a six-sided figure is a (d) hexagon (HEX-uh-GON).

3.—Pessimism looks upon hopelessness; its opposite is (c) hope.

4.—Turbid means "bloated"; morbid means "diseased"; sordid means "mean," but (c) turbid means roiled, not clear.

5.—Latin impugno means to attack or assail a person; hence, to blame is (b) impugn (im-PUNE).

6.—Perfidious means "treacherous"; insidious means "sly"; sagacious means "wise," but (b) punctilious (punk-TIL-i-us) means reliable in conduct.

7.—Corsuscate (KOR-us-KATE) is from Latin corsus, which means glitter.

8.—Devious (DEE-vi-us) is from Latin de, away from, and via, road; hence, out of the way. Its opposite, therefore is (c) straight.

Many people who know the least at least know enough to make the most of it.

Banks Open Their Eyes To Education Loans

IT'S taken a war to open our eyes to a new wrinkle in education.

Under the so-called Korean Veterans Bill, discharged members of the Armed Forces who have been on active duty since July, 1950, are entitled to up to 36 months of educational benefits.

But whereas in World War II the money was paid directly to the school, under the new legislation monthly payments from the government will be made to the veteran himself.

This meant that schools, instead of getting a full semester's tuition in advance were going to have to work out something to accommodate the veterans operating on a month-to-month basis.

One of the first colleges to work out a practical arrangement was the Stevens Institute of Technology, of Hoboken, N. J. Stevens, through an arrangement with local banks, is now able to get its tuitions from veterans in an advance lump sum, with the veterans repaying the banks out of their monthly government checks.

Which brings up the point, if such a system can be worked out for veterans why not also for other students who just can't get up the full semester's tuition in advance?

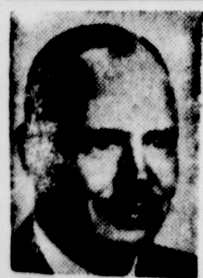

The president of Stevens says several banks through the country have written him about his college's plan. This may be a sign, he says, "that financial circles are at last becoming concerned with a problem that has bothered educators for years: how to permit young people, regardless of their economic situations, to attend the college they want to."

And a very good sign it is, too.

UNCLE EF

Old Doc Smithers used to drive all over the county in a horse and buggy when the roads were hub deep in mud. His boy, who took over the practice, has a good car, but now that we've got good roads everywhere, he's inquiring about the price of a helicopter.

The Doctor Says... Far More Men Than Women Suffer Muscular Dystrophy

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Four correspondents have recently asked for a discussion of a disease which I should much rather not write about—namely, muscular dystrophy.

Although there are several forms of this distressing disease, they are all somewhat similar in showing increasing muscular wasting and weakness. They are being considered as truly hereditary.

The hereditary nature of muscular dystrophy is shown by the fact that nearly half of those who are afflicted with it have at least one other member of their families showing the same disease.

Another interesting thing which is probably tied to the hereditary element is the fact that the disease is about three times as common in men as in women.

As a general rule, the first signs of muscular dystrophy appear early in life. Quite often it comes on so slowly that the difficulty is hardly noticed at first. As one mother wrote about her teen-aged boy: "He noticed a certain inability to keep up in sports, about a year ago. He had been active in hockey and baseball, and also helped on the farm."

In addition to the hereditary factor, some victims of this condition show certain chemical changes which can be identified. As yet, however, these chemical changes have not brought much information which could be translated into effective treatment.

FUNDS SPEED CURE

Here, then, is a disease which requires the most intelligent and concentrated kind of research in order that some clues may be discovered to its prevention or treatment. This must be done and it is hoped that funds can be raised to speed the conquest of this knotty problem.

In the meanwhile, as one correspondent wrote, "there will be many gallant chaps with gallant families, doing their best to lead normal lives and facing their muscular weakness with courage and intelligence." They should be saluted by all of us.

Chronic Alcoholism Blamed In Death Of Chicago Ex-Dancer

CHICAGO — Mrs. Georgia de Laurentis, 28-year-old one-time dancer whose nearly nude body was found in a suburban ditch Aug. 4, died of chronic alcoholism and an overdose of sedatives, the coroner's office said yesterday.

The announcement said the cause of death was determined by chemical analysis. Police at first had suspected foul play after the woman's body, clad only in a brassiere and with a woman's belt and scarf knotted about the thighs, was found in suburban River Grove.

Police said she had several aliases and apparently was a narcotics addict because of needle marks on her arms.

Democrats unless the individual candidates withdraw.

Against Stevenson
To meet that contingency, the convention passed a resolution empowering its State Executive Committee to fill any vacancy that may occur. It already had that power and has taken such action many times in the past.

At the State Capitol in Austin, Gov. Shivers declined comment on the GOP action and Daniel said he was "glad the Republicans admit the Democrats have chosen the best candidates." Whether they would consent to their names being on the GOP ballot remained unanswered.

Republican leaders were frankly confident that none of the designated Democrats would withdraw. They poured praise especially on Daniel and Shivers and passed a resolution commending them for saying they could not support Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

Austria May Be Picked For Next Soviet Satellite

military men who ran the occupation since 1945.

A major Russian effort toward making Austria more economically dependent upon the East may follow the planned visit to Vienna next month of Soviet Deputy Trade Minister A. V. Zakharov. Local Communists report he will offer "wonderful trade opportunities."

Bad Winter Ahead

Some of the dangers of growing Russian economic penetration were explained recently to William H. Draper, the President's special ambassador in Europe, and W. John Kenney, deputy chief of the Mutual Security Agency, when they visited Vienna.

They were told that American occupation officials fear this winter will be critical. But the same U. S. authorities hope that, despite Soviet efforts to bring its collapse, the nation's coalition government will remain unshaken.

U. S. economic advisers are trying to stimulate the idea of larger production and smaller profits to cut the price of Austria's exports. But they are bucking against the Austrian cartels, which believe in maximum profits from minimum output.

Reds Pay No Taxes

Into the deepening economic crisis, the Russians and the Austrian Communists are moving by:

1. Draining of the national economy by shipping millions of dollars worth of Austrian products eastward from the 300 Russian-owned plants in the Soviet zone. The yearly drain is greater than aid from the West.

2. Deliberately creating unemployment. This is done by ordering goods from private plants and then delaying payment and causing labor layoffs.

3. Avoiding taxes. Russian-owned plants refuse to pay the government millions of dollars.

4. Terror and violations of Austrian authority. Recently, in the Soviet zone, a group of communists seized a privately owned textile plant. Austrian police speedily threw out the new Communist "managers." But the incident, one of many similar, created a pattern for a wider terror.

5. By constantly holding before the Austrians the visions of a booming revival of their pre-war trade with the East. U. S. officials say that in nearly every case where Austria has agreements with Eastern nations, the Soviet satellites are behind in their deliveries.

But official Austrian reports say that eastern trade has increased 20 per cent in the past year and Austria's trade minister, Josef C. Boeck-Greisau, predicted:

"For Austria, exports to the West alone are only possible during a world market boom. Now, with normal trade returning, we will have to deal with the East and Southeast to an extent surpassing the present volume."

Egypt Requests Police Weapons

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's reform government has asked the United States to supply automatic weapons for an increased mobile police force.

Premier Aly Maher also appealed for American economic aid and technical advice to help raise the country's living standard.

Maher announced the requests last night after conferring with U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery and Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, leader of the Army coup which ousted ex-King Farouk.

A few months ago the U. S. supplied Egypt with enough automatic weapons to set up a mechanized police regiment of 3,000 men. It is understood the government plans to increase this force to 5,000.

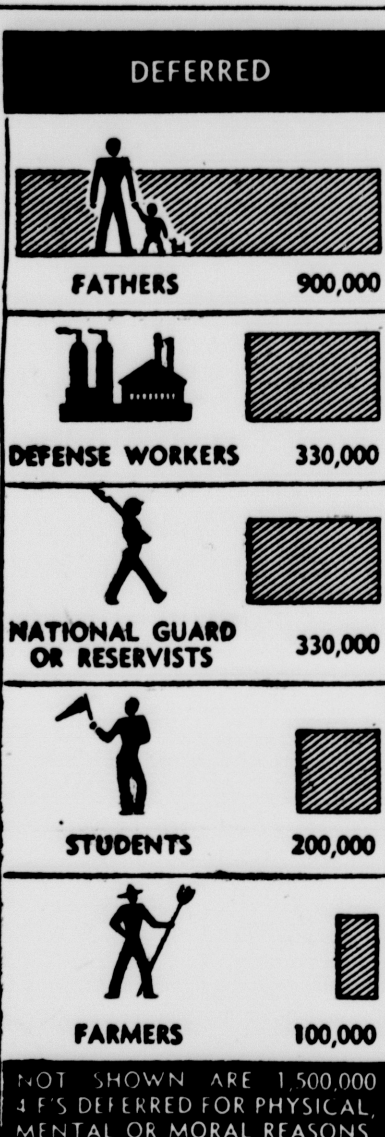

Maher told reporters he hoped to hold general parliamentary elections in Egypt before next February.

Escanaba Yacht Club Entertains Teachers Attending Clinic

As part of the reception activities planned for public school teachers attending the pre-school clinic in Escanaba this week, the Escanaba Yacht Club held a sailing party this afternoon for the convening instructors.

Several members of the club made their boats available for groups of teachers interested in sailing or motor-boating.

Boats offered included E. F. Erickson's "America," J. J. Mitchell's "Lucky Star," C. W. Stoll's "Rose of Sharon," R. L. Johnson's "Mon Ami," and Richard Hoyer's and John Walsh's "Miss Innocence."

Stevenson Slaps McCarthyism In Speech To Legion

their demands were "excessive or in conflict with the public interest."

Patriotism Is Theme
It was a fighting speech with patriotism as the theme and through it ran a plea to defend freedom of thought in the fight against communism.

Stevenson assailed communism as "the death of the soul" but he added freedom of thought is being menaced by over-zealous patriots.

He called for a strong national defense and the restrained use of America's power to promote freedom, justice and peace in the world.

He told Legionnaires patriotism "is not short, frenzied outburst of emotion, but the tranquil and steady dedication of a lifetime."

Then in his first major drive for votes in the East, Stevenson said there are men among us "who use 'patriotism' as a club for attacking other Americans."

Bids For Eastern Votes

He continued: "What can we say for the man who proclaims himself a patriot—and then for political or personal reasons attacks the patriotism of faithful public servants?"

"I give you, as a shocking example, the attacks which have been made on the loyalty and the motives of our great wartime chief of staff, Gen. Marshall."

"To me this is the type of 'patriotism' which is, in Dr. Johnson's phrase, the last refuge of scoundrels."

The Legion speech was the opening gun in Stevenson's big bid for Eastern support in the November election—and it was to be followed by a busy round of speeches and political confabs in New York and New Jersey.

Tour Starts Sept. 5
Last night at his Springfield, Ill., headquarters, it was announced Stevenson will begin a 7,600-mile tour Sept. 5 which will carry him into nine Western states.

Stevenson made only one reference in his speech to Eisenhower. He said: "The fact that a great general and I are competing candidates for the presidency will not diminish my warm respect for his military achievements. Nor will that respect keep me from using every honest effort to defeat him in November."

Stevenson praised the Legion for its fight to awaken America to the need of military preparedness—and he said this fight largely is won. But he warned there are other tasks we dare not neglect.

"It is our high task," he said, "to use our power with a sure hand and a steady touch—with the self-restraint that goes with confidence. The purpose of our power must never be lost in the fact of our power—and the purpose, I take it, is the promotion of freedom, justice and peace in the world."

And then turning to the theme of patriotism, Stevenson brought up the subject of pressure tactics.

He said: "Consider the groups who seek to identify their special interests with the general welfare. I find it sobering to think that their pressures might one day be focused on me."

"I have resisted them before and I hope the Almighty will give me the strength to do so again. And I should tell you now, as I would tell all other organized groups, that I intend to resist pressures from veterans, too, if I think their demands are excessive or in conflict with the public interest, which must always be the paramount interest."

Wall Street
By RADAR WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—Sudden enthusiasm for the railroads today pulled the stock market ahead and enlivened trading.

Favored railroads added between 1 and 2 points while the remainder of the list advanced fractionally with few exceptions. At the same time fractional losses dotted major divisions.

In the forefront of the rise were such issues as Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Seaboard Railroad, Southern Railway, and Southern Pacific.

Chrysler was active and higher, and a few steels perked up in the midst of the recovery movement.

Amerasia added as much as 3 points, but quietly, and a few oils were ahead despite lagging tendencies here and there in the division.

Higher stocks included U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Studebaker, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, Mc Intyre-Porepine, Baltimore & Ohio, Texas Co., and Johns-Manville.

American Samatra Tobacco was lower after directors passed over the dividend due at this time.

Heirman Urges Proper Soil Diet

Soils need a proper diet just as animals do if they are to be top producers and dollar earners, says J. L. Heirman, Delta county farm agent.

Properly fed soils save money both in the long and short runs, he reminds farmers.

To take guess work out of the job of supplying the proper nutrients to the soil ration Heirman recommends the practice of soil testing.

Late summer is the advised time for soil testing because sampling is easier and the fertilization program can be planned on time.

Lime can be applied to sod fields as needed and worked into the soil before spring seeding of legumes.

Heirman cited one Michigan farmer who saved $100 in lime costs by tests that showed that a particular plot needed no liming to sweeten the soil. In some series of tests, four out of five samples showed no lime needed, and the farmers could put the money they planned to spend on lime into fertilizer.

Soils need phosphorous, potash, nitrogen and other things besides lime, Heirman stresses and any farmer in doubt should have soil tested before wasting money.

The county agricultural agent is available to guide farmers in their testing and fertilizing problems. When a major problem arises, he can call on specialists from Michigan State College.

Movie Locations Rough On Rosalind Russell But She's Wild About Them

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — After nearly breaking her leg on one, you'd think Rosalind Russell would lose her enthusiasm for movie locations. But not Roz.

"I'm simply wild about locations," said the actress, who talks at a rate just under the speed of light. "Why, do you know that in 39 pictures I had never been on location before? They always said I would go, then at the last minute they'd send doubles."

Pictures More Real

"Now I'd like to do all my pictures on location. Just pick up and go to Spain or Mexico or someplace. Pictures are so much more real when they're filmed in the actual place of the story. It's stimulating to the actors."

Miss Russell shows remarkable perseverance. She just returned from locating with "Never Wave at a Wave" at Camp Lee, Va., training center of the Women's Army Corps. The heat was intense that shoes would sink in marching area black-top.

"When we first got there, the girls in the cast went through the drill," Miss Russell related. "The heat was over 100 degrees and climbing, but we drilled six hours a day for three days. We didn't mind it at all, until we discovered we were using muscles we had never used before."

Mishap Leaves Scar

In one scene, she took a tumble, and it was feared that she had broken her leg. Tests proved otherwise, but she has a large, Z-shaped wound that will leave a permanent scar. She was back at work without upsetting the production schedule.

The WAC picture is part of Miss Russell's determined campaign to escape being typed as a professional woman.

Veterans In Service Gain 1,021,000 Since Start Of Korean War

WASHINGTON — The Veterans Administration reported today that the number of veterans with service since the start of the Korean War reached 1,021,000 on July 31.

That was a gain of 100,000 during July, compared with 51,000 in June. As of July 31 the V. A. estimated there were 19,376,000 living veterans of all wars and peacetime service, compared with 19,288,000 on June 30 and 18,898,000 on July 31, 1951.

ed to know how many professional woman roles I had played. I had them counted up and they came to 19! I've been an executive, lawyer, doctor, psychiatrist, judge, advertising woman, newspaper gal, etc. How long could I go on shouting into telephones?"

Talked Into Road Tour

Her determination to shake such roles was part of the reason she undertook her first return to the stage in 15 years. She toured in 11 cities for six months with "Bell Book and Candle." She admitted that director-author Josh Logan talked her into it.

"He saw a stack of play scripts I had been reading and asked how long I had been looking for a play," she said. "I told him two years. 'You'll be looking another two years,' he told me, 'and still you won't find one.'"

"He explained that stars like Katharine Cornell and Helen Hayes have plays written especially for their talents. 'We wrote "Mister Roberts" so it would be tailor-made for Henry Fonda,' Josh said. 'They thought Mary Martin was crazy to take the road company of an Ethel Merman show, "Annie Get Your Gun." But she proved she could do it, and she broke records. After that, we wrote "South Pacific" with her and Ennio Pinza in mind.'"

After his arguments, she accepted the road tour. "And now I've got a couple of fellows writing a play for me," she said proudly.

Meanwhile, she may return to Broadway in a musicalized "My Sister Eileen."

"I can sing a bit and do a time step," she reported. "My last New York show was a musical, 'Garick Gaieties.'"

BORN WITHOUT LEGS — Three-year-old Johnny Morlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Morlock of Mason, Mich., who was born without legs, learns to walk with artificial limbs after nearly a year of treatment at a Grand Rapids hospital. Bronze Dragon Found In Ruins Near Naples

HERCULANEUM (AP) — An ancient five-headed dragon made of bronze has been uncovered in this dead city of antiquity near Naples.

The statue, found in the basin of what once was a large pool built in the form of a cross, is part of an elaborate fountain almost seven feet high. The fountain is shaped like a tree-trunk. The dragon, with its serpentine tail, embraces the base of the fountain.

The important discovery was covered with mud and ashes, it may have been buried there since 79 A.D., when the town was annihilated by Vesuvius when it also snuffed out Pompeii.

Andrew Jackson's Hermitage Is Saved For A Tourist Shrine

By CLIFTON PAISLEY
AP Newsfeatures

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The 150,000 or more persons who are visiting Andrew Jackson's familiar homestead, the Hermitage, this summer see the place just as Old Hickory left it on June 7, 1845.

For this fact they can thank a determined group of Nashville women. Sixty-three years ago, the Ladies Hermitage Association was formed to fight off a plan to convert the Hermitage into a Confederate home.

From time to time the ladies have sent out flying squadrons to combat other moves to convert the old shrine to practical uses. But their main work has been to rescue the Hermitage from dilapidation and preserve it through the years.

This long range campaign is now playing off in more financial security for the old estate than it has ever had, even during the occupancy of its famous tenant.

Last year there were 157,497 paying guests and this year sponsors expect more. With the admission fee newly doubled from 25 cents the Hermitage is now able to put aside a reserve for lean years.

Vies With Mount Vernon

The heavy attendance making the Hermitage, next to Mount Vernon, the most popular shrine of the sort in the nation—can be traced to an insistence upon authenticity. The old mansion is brick for brick just as Jackson rebuilt it after a fire in 1835.

Visitors therefore will find the Hermitage looking just like the Hermitage did when Sam Houston rode up the cedar-lined driveway one Sunday in June, 1845. The interior, too, has the same furniture. The former president of the Texas Republic arrived just a few minutes too late that day to grasp the hand of his military chief. He had planned to tell Jackson all about a decision to bring Texas into the Union.

A worry that Texas was going to join Great Britain had been pestered the 77-year-old Jackson as he withered away with sickness. A few months before, he had written a friend: "We cannot bear that Great Britain have a Canedy on our west as she has on our north."

But Houston was told when he pulled up at the gate that Jackson had died only a few minutes before. Today visitors find few rooms in the Hermitage more entrancing than the one in which Old Hickory died beneath the portrait of his beloved Rachel.

The Hermitage caretaker, Andrew J. (three guesses what the "J" is for) Baker, says the coming of the automobile is what made possible the maintenance of the Hermitage. Before the automobile and good roads the old estate, 12 miles from the heart of Nashville, was considered remote and seldom visited.

Baker is the son of a man who was caretaker for 45 years. Born in the Hermitage himself, this 54-year-old man recalls that in the days of the buggy there was only a trickle of traffic to the Hermitage. Even before formation of the Ladies Hermitage Association the Hermitage narrowly escaped disaster one or more times.

When the state of Tennessee bought the 500-acre property for $48,000 in 1856 it proposed, at the suggestion of Gov. Andrew Johnson, that the United States establish a branch of its military academy there.

Congress apparently took a dim view, however, of setting up a branch of West Point in the heart of what soon was to become the Confederacy. Nothing came of the move although a Congressional committee approved it.

Various legal heirs of Jackson remained on the property for years after his death but the property became badly run down.

Garden Became Pasture
During the Civil War, Federal

Gen. George H. Thomas threw a cavalry guard around the estate to protect it from the swirling tides of battle. That was fine, except that the cavalry animals were let loose to forage in the formal garden where Andrew and Rachel lay buried.

The garden suffered again during the winter of 1951 when a severe ice storm and sub-zero temperatures nipped and destroyed many priceless box plants.

After the last of the Jackson heirs left the place in 1887 the proposal came before Tennessee's Legislature that the Hermitage be converted into a Confederate home.

That stirred the Nashville women into action. They sent

School Segregation Ends In New Mexico; Negro Teacher Hired

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—School officials Friday announced the complete abolishment of segregation in schools here and the hiring of the first Negro teacher ever to be placed on a regular New Mexico faculty. The new teacher, Lawrence brigades of lobbyists before the Legislature to protest. The Ladies Hermitage Association was only partly successful. Although it got possession of the Hermitage a part of the property was reserved for a soldiers home which was built and used until 1934.

Pigford, who has taught in the Negro school in this town of 6,700 for several years, has been transferred to the regular faculty.

A graduate of Colorado State College at Greeley, Pigford holds bachelor of arts and masters degrees in mathematics. He has been assigned classes in Alamogordo's new high school building in math, shop and drawing.

Negro students will be assigned to regular grade school classes when they return this fall, School Supt. Barney Caton said.

New Mexico law provides that local school boards may "in the best interest of the school, segregate for instruction children of African descent." A number of New Mexico cities have used this law in establishing segregated schools.

National Guard Trains At Camp Grayling

BUILDING TIMBER TRESTLE—The 107th Engineers Combat Battalion of the Upper Peninsula drew the assignment to construct a timber trestle over a water area at Camp Grayling. Most of the timbers came from the Upper Peninsula. Members of the battalion are shown here constructing the bridge at the National Guard camp. It was the first time that a timber trestle bridge was ever built by National Guardsmen at Camp Grayling.

TAMPING THE FOOTINGS—To get a strong footing for bridge construction, National Guardsmen use an air tamper to consolidate the ground. An unidentified Guardsman is pictured here in this operation, preparatory to the installation of timbers for the bridge.

Demand For Paper Money Keeping Uncle Sam Busy

A SEVEN-MONTHS' JOB — Matthew Fenton working on one steel-die engraving of a picture of Chief Justice Vinson.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
WASHINGTON — The tremendous demand for paper money, postage and revenue stamps has made the U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing one of the world's great mass production plants.

In an average day the bureau turns out some 130 million items—currency notes, stamps, bonds and other items. While modern printing machinery and a force of 6,000 employees make possible this gigantic production, the key work is done by a small group of artists.

Fifteen specially skilled engravers hand tool the intricate designs in soft steel. The tooling takes from one to seven months of painstaking work.

Separate portions of a design, such as a portrait, pictorial scene, ornaments and lettering are usually executed by different specialists. Realistic portrayal of such diverse substances as flesh, clothing, the sky, metal and stone requires fine workmanship.

How Engraver Works
The engraver works with a steel tool known as a graver, aided by a magnifying glass. He cuts V-shaped incised lines in the soft steel and occasionally he uses an etching needle in working out the design.

The bureau now has eight letter engravers and seven picture engravers. There are only three apprentices, two of them letter engravers and the other a picture engraver.

Opportunity for engraver-employment at the bureau is plainly limited. The apprentice hiring interval could be 8 to 10 years, depending upon the retirement or death of journeymen engravers.

The starting age for apprentices, excepting war veterans, is from 16 to 21 years. Besides basic education and training requirements, applicants must demonstrate ability at free hand drawing.

Five Years in Training
Bureau engravers serve five years of apprenticeship and are required to take three years of study at a recognized art school during that time. Generally they are not rated as full-fledged engraving artists until they have spent an additional five or six years at the work.

The salary of a letter-engraver is $8,100 a year. A picture-engraver receives from $8,100 to $10,000. Pay of an apprentice is on a six-month graduated scale basis. It ranges from starting pay of $1,940 a year to $5,183 at the end of the fifth year. At the beginning of the 11th year the salary goes up to $8,100.

When a new currency note or other engraved work is to be produced, a model is prepared by a design artist. It is based upon discussions with officials of the various government agencies inis forced into the lines of the original engraving so that the lines stand out in relief on the roll.

The steel of the roll is hardened, and the design is transferred to soft steel plates again by rolling under heavy pressure. The steel plates with the cut-in impressions are hardened and cleaned and then are ready for the printer.

This printing by the engraved-plate method on a distinctive paper, with inks manufactured by the bureau, are the principal means of precaution against counterfeiting. The paper, composed of 50 per cent cotton and 50 per cent linen, contains small segments of red and blue fibers imbedded during the process of manufacture.

In the fiscal year 1951, the bureau produced a grand total of more than 47 billion items—currency notes, postage stamps, internal revenue stamps, war savings stamps, government checks and other documents. These documents had a total face value of $243 billion.

Internal revenue stamps issued numbered 22,505,000,000, postage stamps 21,793,000,000 and currency notes 2,189,000,000. The bureau used a total of 6,815 tons of paper and 2,400 tons of ink.

Cost of Production

The cost of producing United States notes and silver certificates is approximately nine-tenths of a cent per note. The cost of producing the ordinary variety of postage stamps is 10 1/2 cents per 1,000 stamps.

The bureau was started back in August 1862 when a force of two men and four women worked in a single room of the attic of the main Treasury Building. They separated, sealed and signed $1 and $2 notes which had been printed by private bank note

The engraving of plates for printing currency was started the following November. The printing of revenue stamps was taken over by the bureau in 1876 and of postage stamps in 1894.

Family Fights Off Invasion By Bees

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Some friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greusel who had dropped in for a chat noticed a couple of bees flying around in the living room.

Greusel went over and opened the fireplace flue. Immediately the room was swarmed over by thousands of bees—all over the rug, ceiling, furniture and television set. They later took over the basement.

The Greusels and friends withdrew to get help. Greusel re-entered the room and knocked out many with DDT. Fires were built in the fireplace and the bees were swept and shoveled in.

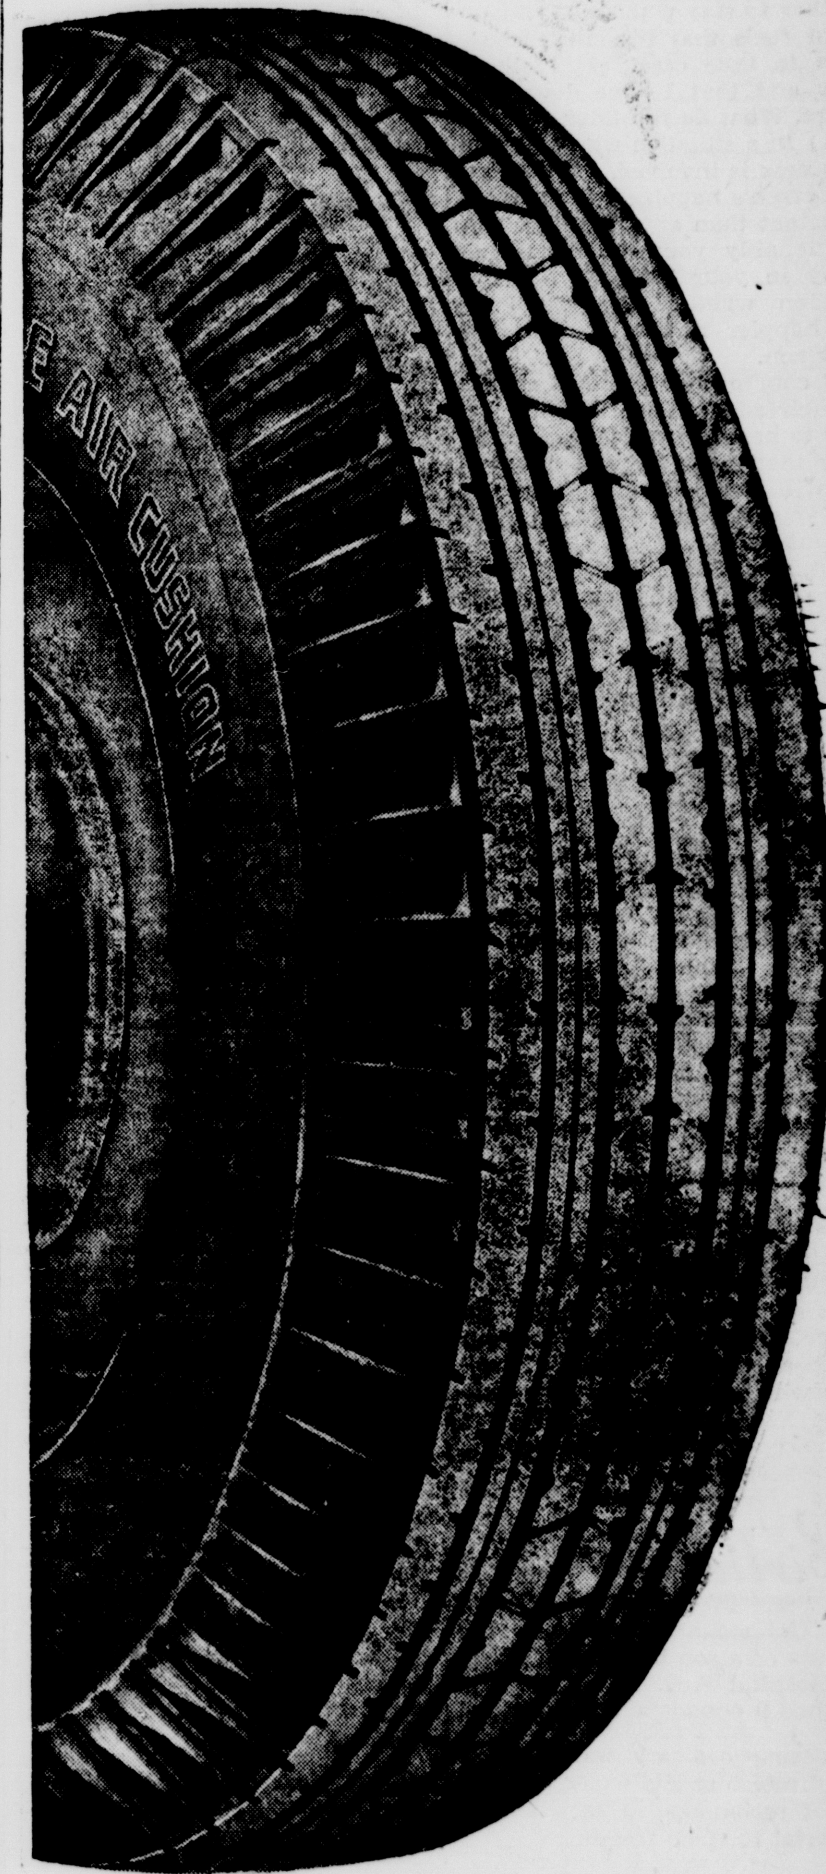

A screen was put over the chimney to block further entrance. The bees then swarmed all over the outside of the house. Then rain cooled off the bee advance. They retreated to the chimney top.

Greusel issued an appeal to any farmer wanting bees to help himself.

AS WE LIVE

Happiness Comes First In Care Of Aged Mother

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
Generally the daughter or daughters of the family assume the burden of caring for an elderly parent. Unfortunately, they resent carrying this burden alone. That problem is making life difficult for the elderly mother whose daughter wrote:

(Q) "For 15 years, my mother lived with me while my two brothers contributed nothing to her support. Five years ago, one brother moved two doors away from me and Mother went to live with him. He has no children, my sister-in-law works, and they are very comfortable. My sister-in-law and mother had a terrific fight about a month ago and Mother was sick in bed afterwards. Now, Mother spends most of her time at my house. Our lease will soon be up and we will have to take a smaller home so I will have no place for mother to stay with us. My husband feels that it's the sons' turn to take care of Mother now and that I have done my share. What do you think?"

(A) In a situation where human happiness is involved, I think that the person's happiness is far more important than anything else. Unquestionably your mother is not happy in your brother's home. I question whether she would be any happier in the home of her other son.

Of course your brothers should do their share. The 15 years you gave to her care is unquestionably more than your share. I doubt if she will live long enough to enable your brothers to do an equal amount for her.

But, you certainly do not want your mother's last years to be unhappy on a question of fairness.

Why not have your two brothers and their wives meet with you and your husband to discuss this whole problem? Tell them how much it will cost to care for your mother, and how much extra rent will be needed to provide a room for her when you move. Ask them if they will assume all financial responsibilities for their mother for the rest of her life, if you assume the responsibility of caring for her. This would take care of the problem of her happiness without putting an extra burden on your husband's shoulders.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help. Write in care of this newspaper.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES by Sue Donimus

GOOD news for you women who wear the larger half-size dresses . . . Gartner's have some frocks that will take your breath away! Just as I arrived on the scene yesterday they were unpacking these new rayon faille dresses that are designed in the very latest styles and which also stoop to a bit of camouflage! I especially liked the slimming lines of a navy blue costume that has three tailored button holes in a beautiful coral shade on one lapel and brilliant coral buttons on the other. Several of these new dresses are two piece frocks in black, purple and a deep aqua. You'll find them extremely reasonable in price: sizes run from 18 1/2 to 24 1/2. There are also gaudy-bardine skirts in navy, black and brown; 24 to 34 waist. You can fool most of the people most of the time with these clothes of deft deception from Gartner's!

I LIKE the post card sent home by a little camper. "We're having a spelling B and I'm in the finals." If you have trouble with "i after e except after c" and stuff like that, better

Odds n' Ends

This is for the plum season what's coming... on quick coffee take they're special... make regular coffee cake batter and pour into greased cake pan... take ten blue plums, split them and remove the stones... place halves, sliced side down... on batter, beginning with a hub at the center to make a wheel like pattern in spokes to the edge of the pan... mix sugar and cinnamon to make 1 tablespoons and sprinkle over coffee cake... bake in moderate oven for 25 minutes.

Good news for those of us that eye the hip accentuating styles with the knowledge that our hips will be just too accentuated straight full winter coats are the rage too, and if you keep your coat on all winter, it'll hide a multitude of bulges.

To make a good beef stew better, take out some of the beef and substitute lean pork for half of the beef... then replace 1 cup or so of the required water with that amount of burgundy or claret... that's especially for the day you have company and want to impress them with an unusual taste treat.

It might be low cost luxury... the way the ads read, but it'd be fun to see if the new remote control wiring really makes it possible to start the morning coffee by pushing a bedside button... open and close bedroom windows the same way and even turn every light in the house on or off simultaneously with a single master switch... fine for those who'd like to spend all their time in bed.

Doneness test for broiled chicken... cut into the thick part of the drumstick... if it comes easily and no pink is visible, it's done.

Thrift got out of hand... the present day expensive cocktail party with its hors d'oeuvres came about when French housewives invented the hors d'oeuvres as a thrifty way to use up leftovers... that's why some of them taste the way they do?

Light Project Again Studied

Additional information on the most feasible means of reconditioning Manistique's boulevard lighting system was furnished the City Council at its regular meeting Monday night by E. H. Evans, of Appleton, Wis., manager of the General Electric Supply Corporation.

Evans was the second electrical firm representative to discuss the matter with the city and present his recommendations. Several weeks ago representatives of the Line Material Company, of Milwaukee, conferred with council members on the lighting project. Evans told councilmen that it would cost approximately $600 a light standard to reconstruct the boulevard system, and recommended that the job be done on a staggered basis over a period of years.

He suggested that mercury vapor lamps be used, placed on 30 foot poles and attached to an arm extending eight feet toward the street. He recommended that the present series system be retained, that ballast and transformers be placed in the base of the standards, that electric cables be run in underground conduits, and that each pole be separately grounded if steel standards are used.

Mercury vapor lamps, he said, would provide about five times more light than incandescent lights at the same cost of operation, although the lamps themselves would be more expensive to purchase than incandescent.

Councilmen discussed the possibility of installing a new system in two eastside and two westside business blocks as an initial step in the proposed project, with present poles being moved to other sections of the system to replace broken or damaged standards.

It was indicated that another electrical company representative would meet with the council at a future session to provide additional facts on rebuilding the local system.

Purchase Of New Garbage Unit Not Proving Easy Task

Purchase of a new garbage collecting unit is not proving an easy task for members of the Manistique City Council.

As a result of recent bids the city board may purchase a demonstration model truck and collecting unit at an approximate $2,000 saving and immediate delivery or buy a completely new garbage unit.

Following a lengthy discussion of the matter at its meeting Monday night, councilmen decided to defer action again until approximate delivery dates on new units can be obtained from local bidders.

Council members expressed some skepticism that the $2,000 saved on a demonstration model would actually be a saving inasmuch as the truck supporting the collector offered had already traveled some 12,000 miles.

Several letters from other communities giving their experience with garbage units, including the city of Milwaukee, proved of little value in guiding the Manistique council in making a decision.

The city is interested in a nine to 12 yard collector to replace the present unit which has not proved entirely satisfactory since it was placed in operation several years ago. The machine is now rapidly approaching a state where it will

Cleaning Up Of Lakeshore Area Discussed By City

A request that the city remove underbrush and clean up municipal park area between US-2 and Lake Michigan or return the land to its owners was made by Ed Parker at the City Council meeting Monday night.

The land located near the Garden Ave.-US-2 intersection, was deeded to the city about 27 years ago by the Parkers with the verbal understanding that it be used for park purposes.

If the land were returned to him Parker said that he would undertake the brushing and cleaning job himself.

William Hood, city attorney, reported that he could find no deed or other records involving the property which contained a city park reservation.

Council members discussed a proposal that the area be brushed out and cleaned up in the fall, with picnic tables being installed, but took no official action.

no longer be usable, councilmen have been informed by H. W. Heideman, city manager.

City Approves School Budget

The annual budget of Manistique city schools, amounting to $214,199, was approved by the City Council at its regular meeting Monday night.

The budget provides a total of $41,568.40 to be raised by local taxation on the fall tax roll. Friets moved into the semifinals by defeating Vickie Beck. Hansen eliminated Catherine Lambert yesterday to get the other semifinal berth.

Today's winners will meet for the club championship tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Johnson is a former champion.

Mary Agnes Wall Faces Defending Champion Today

PORTLAND, Ore. (P)—Most of the favorites were still in the picture but the ax falls twice today as 32 contestants head into the second and third rounds of match play in the Women's National Amateur Golf Championship.

Leading the parade, and doubtless the most reliable favorite in the field, was the defending champion and medalist from Atlanta, Dorothy Kirby.

Playing over the 6,323-yard, par 36-37-73 Waverley Country Club course, the field will be split to 16 in the morning round, and on down to the select eight by nightfall.

Champion Dorothy, who played well enough but hardly up to her own standard yesterday in winning a 4 and 3 decision over Mrs. Frank T. Fisk of Portland, teed off against Mary Agnes Wall, of Minneapolis, Mich. The two have met several times before, with Dorothy generally the winner. Miss Wall got past Ethel Benson, Flourtown, Pa., 5 and 4.

Helen Sigel, one-time runner-up from Philadelphia, and Curtis Cup player Mae Murray, Rutland, Vt., was another attractive twosome, as was 1948 champion Grace Lenzyk of Newton, Conn., and Katharine McKinnon of Lake Worth, Fla.

Little League to Play Final Game Thursday Evening

Little League baseball activity will close for the year with the annual Senior-Under-grad game Thursday night at the Little League diamond at 6.

All twelve-year-olds are asked to be on hand by 4:15 p. m. who will direct the senior team, and Frank Bourke, manager of the undergrads, asked the following players to be out:

Lions—Cris Fitzpatrick, Barney and Dave Andrews, Dennis Hogan, Dick Arntzen; Kiwanis—Bob Dagenais, Gene Seguin, Bob Seymour, Craig Peterson, Dick Stacewich; St. Joe—John Wellman, Leroy Lancour, Jerry Dupont, Bob DeGrand; Rotary—Marv Nault, Ken Hamilton, Jim Bourdeau, Jack Lindquist, Bob Hansen, Tom Ellegert, Jim Bourke.

Ness will probably start Bob Stropich with Ken Schwalbach, Bob Anderson and Mike Mileski coming on later in the game. For the undergrads Gene Seguin, Bob Dagenais and Jim Bourdeau will probably each take a turn on the hill.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, was the top pitcher in the American League in 1901. Hurling for Chicago he won 24 games and lost 7.

West Virginia University's new baseball field, modeled after big league lines, seats 1,700 fans. It eventually may be improved to accommodate 4,000.

Tigers Change Script, Lose To Red Sox 11-3

BOSTON (P)—The Detroit Tigers don't lose them all by one run.

After Virgil Trucks' no-hitter gave them a brief fling at glory, they reverted to their more natural selves last night and took a 11 to 3 clobbering from the Boston Red Sox.

In fact, two transplanted Bostonians—Walt Dropo and Fred Hatfield—were the only ones able to do the Tigers any good.

Doubles, Singles
Hatfield doubled and Dropo singled in the first inning to bring in the first Detroit run. In the fourth, Hatfield singled and Dropo homered over the left field wall to give the Tigers their last two scores.

Otherwise, the Tigers were futile against the veteran St. Louis, even when they loaded the bases with one out in the sixth. Steve Souchock ended that potential rally by grounding into a double play.

The two sound-alike Detroit pitchers—Bill Wright and Hal White—were treated alike by the Red Sox.

Five In Third
The Red Sox bunched five runs in the third inning and again in the seventh. One of the most damaging blows in the first of these outbursts was a single with Softball fans here have had more than their share of good games at Memorial Field this season, with the district tournaments and the Class A U. P. finals meet run off in Escanaba. But the big plum is yet to come, according to an announcement made this week by Association officials. The King and His Court, fabulous four-man softball team, will perform at Memorial Field late in September. Eddie Feigner's softball show, which has appeared here twice in the past, is rated as the best in sports entertainment anywhere.

Maki's Service team of Chatham, Escanaba district Class B softball champions who added the U. P. crown at Marquette last weekend, scored 75 runs in that title meet. Marquette observers said it was probably the strongest Class B team ever to play there. Maki's beat Marquette 8-1 in the championship game Sunday night. In the semifinals Maki's beat the Air Force Flyers, district champions of the Soo area, by a 24-4 count.

The Detroit Tars, just about the tops in independent football in the state, will be in the Upper Peninsula next Sunday. The team, composed of many Wayne University and U. of M. ex-stars, will play the Iron County Steelers Sunday night at Stambaugh's Nelson Field. The Steelers, for whom Ben Artwick of hockey fame plays end, opened the 1952 season Saturday night by beating the Merrill, Wis., Foxes 2-0 on a second quarter safety. The Tars, who boast a number of former U. P. athletes, defeated Wausau of the Wisconsin State League in an exhibition game Sunday, 37-6.

Three Escanaba drivers and six from Gladstone will compete in the Labor Day weekend outdoor racing program at Newberry. The closed course races Sunday at North Manistique Lake will include the championship finals of the U. P. and Northern Wisconsin Outdoor Association. Racing from Escanaba will be Joe Poffenberger, Stan Vienne Jr. and Lawrence Larmay. Representing Gladstone will be Paul Duroy, Gordon Marshall, Wimp Mineau, Fred Poppin, Rod Kelly and Gilbert Kelly.

Past Champion Out of Tourney

VANCOUVER, B. C. (P)—It's defending champion unceremoniously rubbed from the running. Escanaba pinned its hopes today on Nick "The Wedge" Weslock of Windsor, Ont., and ailing Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver to keep its national amateur golf crown from the grasping hands of a sharp-shooting United States delegation.

Weslock blazed over the drying fairways of the Capilano course yesterday to card an eight-under-par 64, only two shy of the course record. Mawhinney left his hospital bed to score a 6 and 5 victory over George Andrews of Victoria, B. C.

Robert Roos, determined department store owner from San Francisco, was the man who upset the local applicant. He carved out a 5-up lead over champion Wait McElroy of Vancouver in the first nine holes and held on for a 3 and 2 victory.

The big threats from south of the borders as the tourney moves into the first of its double-round days are Sam Uzetta of East Rochester, N. Y., Billy Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., Roos and Ed Johnston of Towson, Md. any one of half a dozen others could pop into top contention with good rounds today.

Eleven Lettermen Out For Bark River Team

BARK RIVER—Eleven lettermen, including eight regulars, form the nucleus of the Bark River-Harris High School football team working out daily under Coach Paul Wiinikainen.

Lettermen who were regulars last year are Wayne Erickson, Jim Greenwood, Dick Shepherd, Louis Dubord, Florian Bartoszek, Joe LaVigne, Dave Dwarcian and Harold Crarbonneau. Other letter winners who saw action last year are Peter Kasbohm, Bill Good and Jim Kasbohm.

Erickson and Greenwood, who made the Bark River squad as freshmen last season, are the only sophomores among the lettermen. Shepherd, Dubord and Bartoszek are juniors. LaVigne, fullback, has returned from California to reenter Bark River school.

Four regulars were lost by graduation last year. Biggest holes were left by Jack Good, halfback, and Allan Schaan, center. Ken Heim and John Petrick also graduated.

Workouts have been curtailed because of lack of candidates to date, but Coach Wiinikainen expects a squad of 27 by opening of school next week. Fifteen prospects have been working out regularly.

There have been no serious injuries on the squad as yet. Bark River's line will average about 160 and with LaVigne back in the backfield, the Bronco ball carriers will average about 150 pounds.

Bark River will open the season with a home stand against the Crystal Falls Trojans on Saturday, Sept. 6.

Detroit Lions Set For Giants

YPSILANTI (P)—Coach Buddy Parker ordered a full-scale, full-pads scrimmage for his Detroit Lions today, plus an afternoon session of signal-running and a night skill practice.

And for 2½ hours last night Parker drilled them on the blackboard, working on strategy for the New York Giants, whom the Lions meet Tuesday night in an exhibition game in Briggs Stadium.

Coaches Al Forte and Russ Thomas, who scouted the Giants in their 7-0 win over Green Bay and their 24-0 victory over Pittsburgh, worked with Parker at last night's session.

Four nights after meeting the Giants, the Lions play the Cleveland Browns in an exhibition at Buffalo, but Parker said: "We'll take the Giants first; the Browns when we get to them."

Six New Archery Records Are Set

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—Six new records were set Tuesday, the second day of the National Field Archery Association Tournament here.

Harold Doan, Adrian, Mich., shooting in the senior mens freestyle division, racked up a two-day total of 905 out of a possible 1120, breaking his own record of 844 set three years ago.

Rodman Posts No-Hitter As Gauthier's Team Wins Pony League Tournament

Bob Rodman came up with a pitching gem last night to lead Gauthier's team to the Pony League double elimination tournament championship.

Rodman fed a no-hitter at Elks as Gauthier's won 5-0. In the seven-inning game Rodman sent 16 batters down swinging at the third strike.

Elmer Bessonnet went the distance for Elks, allowing five hits.

League officials announced today that the AFL Unions-Kiwanis game originally slated for Saturday will be played tomorrow night at 6 at Memorial Field.

Lions Upset Kipling Club

GLADSTONE—The Lions last night clawed Kipling 5-4 with a four-run uprising in the top of the seventh to post the biggest upset in the current city softball tournament.

The Lions went into the last inning trailing 4-1, pushed four runs across and then protected their margin in the last of the inning. Walter Lake suffered the loss for Kipling while Gordon Orton and Bob Micheau shared mound duties for Lions.

In the other game last night Stoughton beat the Merchants 9-3 with Bert Sigfried on the winning hill. Catcher Len Thorsen again added the Stoughton camp with a homer. Norman Beauchamp took the loss.

Vencer Mill and Ensign clash in the first game tonight at 7. Both have lost one game and the loser tonight is eliminated for tournament action.

In the windup at 8:30 tonight Trenary will take on the Lions.

Diving Star Reaches Top Of Ladder In His Sport

NEWARK, N. J. (P)—From the eminence of a ten-foot diving spring board at the Hayes Park pool, David "Skippy" Browning Jr., slight and sandy-haired Texas University senior, stood today and looked for new diving worlds to conquer—and there are none.

With his recapturing of the National AAU Men's outdoor three-meter crown, the one he held last in 1949, Browning ran out of championships national and global. If he is seeking further titles he'll simply have to hop a space ship and go foraging.

When Browning bested Bob Clotworthy, of Westfield, N. J., captain of the Ohio State University squad, 202.82 points to 198.83, yesterday he accomplished a feat unprecedented in the annals of American swimming.

His sweep of the low and high boards indoors, both in AAU and collegiate competition, followed by an Olympic triumph at Helsinki, and then the National AAU outdoor crown, is something that will remain in the books for a long, long time.

There was only one development even approaching an upset in the first session of the three day meet. William Woolsey, a 17-year-old six-foot Honolulu school boy, won the 220 yard free style by two feet over Yale's Wayne Moore, who had been the defending champion.

Indians Stop Bobby Shantz

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

"Expendable" Bob Feller may have lost some of his mound magic of years gone by but the stout-hearted Cleveland righthander is not ready to act as a sacrificial lamb for anyone.

The former strikeout king was enjoying the last laugh today following one of his better performances of the year in which he teamed up with three other "expendable" teammates to bring a most important victory to the Indians.

The one-time Iowa Farm-boy came within two outs of winning a hurling duel from the fabulous Bobby Shantz last night before leaving the mound in the ninth inning with the Indians and Athletics deadlocked at 3-3.

Yanks Win Too

The Indians went on to capture a thrill-packed 6-3 triumph in 11 innings to remain within one game of the American League-leading Yankees, who whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-3, in New York.

A two-run triple by castoff Barney McCosky, a Philadelphia discard, snapped the 3-3 deadlock and gave reliever Lou Brissie the win. Brissie, who also once wore the livery of the Athletics, retired all eight men he faced and struck out pinch hitter Keith Thomas and the dangerous Eddie Joost with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth after relieving Feller.

It was a great night for Manager Al Lopez, who not only saw Feller pitch one-hit ball for seven innings, but had the satisfaction of seeing George Strickland, his emergency shortstop, clout a two-run homer in the seventh to break up a scoreless duel between the two Bobbies. It was only two days ago that Lopez had benched Ray Boone and had given the post to Strickland, a throw-in in a deal with Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn's run away Dodgers moved a step nearer to the National League flag, sweeping the four-game series in St. Louis with a 4-3 success over the Cardinals. The second-place New York Giants remained 10½ lengths behind the Dodgers, winning a 14-7 slugfest in Pittsburgh. Boston's Braves blanked the Reds in Cincinnati, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs eked out a 13-inning 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

al League flag, sweeping the four-game series in St. Louis with a 4-3 success over the Cardinals. The second-place New York Giants remained 10½ lengths behind the Dodgers, winning a 14-7 slugfest in Pittsburgh. Boston's Braves blanked the Reds in Cincinnati, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs eked out a 13-inning 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Washington moved into fourth place in the American League as Bob Porterfield batted in the only run in winning a 1-0 mound duel from Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox. The third-place Boston Red Sox continued to trail the Yankees by 3½ games, vanquishing the Detroit Tigers, 11-3.

Feller had won 239 big league ball games including three no-hitters but few of them have given him more satisfaction than yesterday's dramatic, albeit winless performance against Shantz and the A's.

According to a Cleveland writer, Feller, assigned to oppose Shantz in place of Mike Garcia, the Cleveland ace, was being sacrificed to the 22-game winning Philadelphia southpaw.

"Feller will be in there tonight because he's expendable," wrote Ed McAuley, the able sport columnist of the Cleveland News. "If the fabulous little Bobby Shantz is to win his 23rd game at the expense of the Indians, it will hurt less if he wins it from Feller."

"We'll see tonight who is expendable or who is being sacrificed," was Feller's reply.

The Yankees won in the ninth inning when Joe Collins smashed a home run with two out and two runners on base to hang the defeat upon Satchell Paige, the ageless Brownie relief pitcher. The Yankees had tied the score in the eighth.

Rookie catcher Sammy White had batted in five runs with a pair of doubles and a single as the Red Sox downed the Tigers.

A two-base wild throw by catcher Del Rice on a dribbler hit by George Shuba just 10 feet in front of the plate allowed two Brooklyn runners to score in the ninth, enough to give the Dodgers a 4-3 decision over the Cards.

In the other games, Warren Spahn pitched a five-hit shutout for the Braves over the Reds, Dee Fondy singled to score Hank Sauer with the run that gave the Cubs their 13-inning triumph over the Phillies and Hoyt Wilhelm won his 13th game in relief as the Giants clubbed five Pittsburgh pitchers for 16 hits.

Leahy's Blues May Be Right Song This Year

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — They used to laugh when Frank Leahy sang the blues. But this year he may be better in tune.

The perennially pessimistic coach, molder of Notre Dame football giants, is in the middle of a rebuilding job.

It may take a year or so longer before he uncages another monster to begin a reign of terror on the nation's gridirons.

This 44th birthday of Leahy finds the perfectionist in good spirits.

Toughest Schedule
"I am pleased that our team has not been picked for the mythical national championship weeks in advance of the opening games," he said. "We do not have too much to look forward to this season and most football experts realize it."

Does that mean you will lose all 10 of your games, Frank? "We could, you know," he chuckled. "Our schedule is the most difficult ever attempted by a Notre Dame squad."

In order, the Irish will take on Penn. Texas, Pitt, Purdue, North Carolina, Navy, Oklahoma, Michigan State, Iowa and Southern California.

Although the Notre Dame giant that until 1930 roamed through four undefeated seasons is presumably now under a sedative, it still is not dead.

31 Lettermen
Leahy has 31 lettermen in his hair, the largest batch in the Midwest. Thirty or 40 more pent-up gladiators will join them next week to start preparations for Notre Dame's 64th season.

"It could be that our team will show a certain amount of improvement defensively," Leahy allowed. "And John Lattner at halfback and Neil Worden, fullback, are pretty good college runners."

"But for the most part, games are won on offense, not defense, and there are not any backfield men who will appear to advantage without the support of a fast-charging, good-blocking offensive line. We do not have such a line."

Colored Hurler To Be Honored
By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP) — Dave Hoskins, called by some "the savior of the Texas League," gets his "night" tomorrow night.

The Dallas Negro pitcher, who has packed in 164,301 fans in 30 appearances, will be honored at Ft. Worth as he hurls the first game in a crucial series between the clubs leading the league. Negro citizens of Ft. Worth will hold the night for him.

Seeks 20th Win
Hoskins, first Negro to play in the Texas League, will be seeking his 20th victory of the season. Not only has he been valuable as a gate attraction but he has been a most important man in the Dallas pennant drive. He's the leading pitcher (19-10) and also the club's leading hitter, batting .327.

To show his value as an attraction, Hoskins has actually added 92,850 to the league attendance. Without him, the circuit would be far down; with him it is almost up to last season.

Top Attendance
The average attendance this year has been 2,381 per game. His average for the 30 appearances has been 5,476—5,608 at home and 5,248 away. Nineteen of his games have been pitched in Dallas.

Jerry Doggett, publicity director of the Dallas club, also estimates that Hoskins has drawn 15,000 not included in the paid attendance, such as ladies nights and passes.

Dallas will give him his "night" Wednesday of next week. He will be showered with gifts.

Street Projects Are Considered

Public hearings on a number of street improvement projects will be held by the Gladstone City commission at the next regular meeting on Monday, Sept. 8, it was decided at a regular meeting Monday night.

It is proposed to pave Thirtieth street from Wisconsin to Delta and Tenth street from Delta to Superior with concrete. If approved at the hearing it is probable that these two projects would be completed this fall.

It is also proposed to gravel and curb N. 8th St. from Superior to Railway Avenue and from 3rd Ave. N., to 5th Ave. N., and N. 7th St. from 4th to 5th Avenue N., and Fourth Avenue North from 7th St. to 9th St.

All of the graveling projects would be 30 feet in width and would be done immediately so that they could traffic pack so as to be ready for blacktopping next summer.

The commission also authorized Willard LaFond, superintendent of the light utility, to attend a Public Utilities meeting at Charlevoix, Mich., Sept. 4-5.

Robert J. Riley Dies Suddenly

Robert J. Riley, 68, former prominent Gladstone businessman, died Monday at his home in Chicago following a heart attack, according to word received here.

Riley was born in Eau Claire, Wis., July 31, 1884, where he was reared. He was associated with his father at the Menominee Indian Reservation at Neopit, Wis., where he had charge of buying and later engaged in logging with his father at Rhinelander.

He came to Gladstone in 1916 to manage the Northwestern Co-operative and Lumber Co., store, a position he held for 22 years until the company liquidated and sold the store. In 1938 he was named director of purchasing for the State of Michigan and removed to Lansing. He later moved to Chicago.

While in Gladstone he took a keen and active interest in civic affairs, heading the City Club as president for several terms. He was also active politically and served for a time as secretary of the Delta County Republican committee.

He was a member of Gladstone Lodge 396, F&AM, and the Shrine at Marquette.

Surviving are the widow, Doris, a son Morris and a married daughter.

The body is being brought to Gladstone and will arrive at Escanaba on Thursday morning and be taken to the Kelley funeral home.

ADDED FUN — "SLING SHOT"

YANKEE WHIZ KID—Schooled veterans agree that Mickey Mantle, 20, is the most advanced ball player for his age they ever saw. Mantle's eyes follow the ball out of the park at the finish of a beautiful left-hand swing, and the Commerce, Okla., lad manufacturers an equal number of home runs batting right-handed. Key man of the New York Americans in center field, The Mick chases the ball as far as he belts it, leaps and reaches into stands to pull down towering drives. He is the fastest man in the major leagues, hook slides like Ty Cobb. (NEA Photo)

Padding Of School Rolls Denied By Lake Linden Board

LAKE LINDEN (P)—Members of the Lake Linden-Hubbell School Board lodged a complaint against the State Department of Public Instruction's recent explanation of an irregularity in operation of the public school system here.

Thurston, head of the public instruction department, the board of education members challenged most of the explanation as "deliberate falsification."

Nuns All Approved
The board members said, "We definitely deny the accusation that the membership roll was padded by the inclusion of members not attending the public schools. How could this be done when there were no parochial schools in the district?"

The board had been cited for alleged inclusion of parochial school students in its rolls.

Regarding the employment of Roman Catholic nuns as teachers in the public schools the letter said:

"The employment of Sisters to teach in these schools was approved by the state and each one was certified by the state as a qualified teacher."

Followed Since 1936

"The implication of illegality in the charge that part of the school day was devoted to religious instruction is very unfair. You know that we made known to your department that the plan of operation of these schools as public schools provided for a period of religious instruction for one-half hour in the morning prior to beginning of the school day."

"This procedure has been followed since 1936 and not once in these many years was it intimated or suggested that this procedure was illegal. The sudden accusation of illegality is inconsistent and untenable."

The letter was signed by Louis G. Koepel, Robert L. Baccus, Jean M. Dimet, Kenneth F. Farley and Raymond J. Marcotte of the Lake Linden-Hubbell School Board.

Kid Circus Ringmaster Falls Out Of Tree With His Pants Afire

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (P)—A kid-style backyard circus wound up with a grand finale that couldn't have been more spectacular had it been planned by P. T. Barnum himself.

The ringmaster, 11-year-old Billy Davis, came tumbling out of a tree house 15 feet above the heads of his audience with his pants on fire.

Billy said later that he and three of his promoters had planned a "flaming torch" act to end the show. Their equipment was a jar of gasoline and a match.

Billy didn't get hurt and nobody minded the unplanned act.

After all, the fire department showed up with full sirens to put out the flames in the jar.
